Market Review

- In the month of April, activity in the bonds market remained subdued, with investor interest largely concentrated on mid-tenor instruments. Persistent global tensions continued to dampen offshore participation in the local market. During the month, the Debt Management Office (DMO) released the Q2 2025 auction calendar, showing the introduction of new 5-year and 7-year bond tenors scheduled for June 2025. The second Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) meeting of the year, slated for May, is expected to provide further direction for market sentiment.
- During the month, the Federal Government raised approximately ₦397.89 billion via the bond auction. The 5-year and 9-year bonds closed at yields of 19.00% and 19.99% respectively, unchanged from the previous auction. Investor demand was strong with a bid-to-cover ratio of 1.25x.

Market Review

- Volatility remained the Eurobond market's theme in April, remaining under pressure due to sustained trade conflict between US and China, US unemployment concerns and decline in oil prices. The US FOMC chair (Jerome Powell) reiterated the FOMC's concerns regarding elevated inflation in the future because of Trump's tariffs. The 3-year Nigerian Eurobond returned -1.37% in April.
- In the US, the first estimate of the Gross Domestic Product surprisingly declined at an annualized rate of 0.3% in Q1:2025, lower than expectations of 0.2% and lower than the previous quarter's 2.4% print.
- March inflation (PCE) in the US printed at 2.3% (higher than expectations of 2.2% and lower than the 2.7% print recorded in February).

Key Indicators – April 2025

US FED Policy Rate	4.50%

Disclaimer:

Investors should consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses of the funds carefully before investing. This and other information are contained in the fund's prospectus and other documents, if available, which may be obtained by contacting our representative. Please read them carefully before you invest or send money.

Performance reflects changes in unit prices, reinvestment of dividends and capital gains distributions. All periods longer than one year are annualized. A new or smaller Fund's performance may not represent how the Fund is expected to or may perform in the long-term. New Funds have limited operating histories for investors to evaluate and new and smaller Funds may not attract sufficient assets to achieve investment and trading efficiencies. A Fund may be forced to sell a comparatively large portion of its portfolio to meet significant unitholders redemptions for cash, or hold a comparatively large portion of its portfolio in cash due to significant units purchases for cash, in each case when the Fund otherwise would not seek to do so, which may adversely affect performance.

A word about risk: Investing in foreign denominated and/or domiciled securities may involve heightened risk due to currency fluctuations, and economic and political risks, which may be enhanced in emerging markets. The value of most bond funds and fixed income securities are impacted by changes in interest rates. Bonds and bond funds with longer durations tend to be more sensitive and more volatile than securities with shorter durations; bond prices generally fall as interest rates rise. Past rankings are no guarantee of future rankings.
